

JENNIFER DEJESUS

Growing Empires podcast guest release (please sign and return)

For value received, including the related publicity for me, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, I hereby irrevocably grant to Empire Capital Holdings, LLC and its principal Jennifer DeJesus (collectively, "Podcaster") the right to use and authorize the use of excerpts or all of my interview recorded in connection with the Podcast show currently entitled Growing Empires ("Show") in all media now known or hereafter developed, including without limitation mp4, m4a, internet, digital streaming and/or other online broadcast platforms, as well as in Podcaster's marketing and publicity of the Show in Podcaster's business throughout the world in perpetuity.

I hereby release and waive any and all claims whatsoever in connection with the foregoing, including without limitation any claim of rights of ownership in the Show recording, privacy, publicity or so-called "moral rights" of content authors, as well as any claim to royalties or other compensation of any kind, except as expressly stated herein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein conveys any of my preexisting intellectual property rights in the content I discuss on the Show, all of which I continue to own.

For the avoidance of doubt, Podcaster may not use any part of my interview in any product or service beyond the Show itself (i.e., no repurposing of the recording or underlying content in written transcripts, books, speeches, etc.). However, Podcaster may use brief segments from the Show for promotional purposes so long as verbatim and within the proper context.

Podcaster has acknowledged and agreed that the final edited version of my episode of the Show will be provided to me for approval prior to its first airing upon request. I otherwise release and waive any right I may have to inspect, edit or further approve any of the foregoing uses.

Finally, I grant to Podcaster the right, but not the obligation, to use and authorize the use of my name, photo and/or biography in connection with these uses.
